Hadoop Project Mailing Lists

Table of contents

There are many mailing lists in the Hadoop project. Please use the appropriate list described below. In most cases it is necessary to first subscribe to a list before posting to it.

1 User Mailing Lists

Lists @hadoop.apache.org	Purpose
user@	Primary list for Hadoop user questions.
security@	A private list for security sensitive issues. You may post potential security vunerabilities here.

2 Project Discussion/Annoucement Mailing Lists

Lists @hadoop.apache.org	Purpose
general@	Hadoop project level annoucements and discussions. All Hadoop releases are announced on this list. NOTE: This mailing list is not for end-user questions and discussion. Please use a more-specific subproject's -user mailing list for such issues.

3 Developer Mailing Lists

Lists @hadoop.apache.org	Purpose
common-dev@	For those contributing to the development (code, documentation and tests) of the Hadoop Common project.
hdfs-dev@	For those contributing to the development (code, documentation and tests) of the Hadoop HDFS project.
mapreduce-dev@	For those contributing to the development (code, documentation and tests) of the Hadoop MapReduce project

4 Developer Tracking Mailing Lists

Lists @hadoop.apache.org	Purpose
common-issues@	View all Jira issue changes made in the Hadoop Common Jira. No direct posting allowed.

Lists @hadoop.apache.org	Purpose
common-commits@	View all code changes (diffs) made in the Hadoop Common project. No direct posting allowed.
hdfs-issues@	View all Jira issue changes made in the Hadoop HDFS Jira. No direct posting allowed.
hdfs-commits@	View all code changes (diffs) made in the Hadoop HDFS project. No direct posting allowed.
mapreduce-issues@	View all Jira issue changes made in the Hadoop MapReduce Jira. No direct posting allowed.
mapreduce-commits@	View all code changes (diffs) made in the Hadoop MapReduce project. No direct posting allowed.